

Fireman's Fund Data Compromise Coverage

A data breach could decimate your company and your reputation.

Names, Social Security numbers, credit scores, bank accounts, health data – all of this personal information is under increasing siege by computer hackers and identity thieves. A single loss of sensitive data – whether through thievery, technical malfunction, or sloppy recordkeeping – could not only damage your reputation, but also expose you to lawsuits that could cripple your business.

Protecting Personal Data

Fireman's Fund Data Compromise coverage enables your business to respond effectively if the personal information in your care, custody, or control is stolen or compromised. The coverage includes limits up to $50,000.

In today's litigious world, protecting customers, employees and others from identity theft isn't just a matter of public relations; it goes directly to your bottom line. Lost or stolen data can produce embarrassing media attention, legal complications, and huge costs incurred to notify the affected individuals and help them repair and restore their identities.

Data Breaches Can Occur 24/7

Are you covered for these kinds of incidents?

- The company's network is hacked, and customer information contained in its databases is compromised.

- A laptop computer containing customer and vendor names and Social Security numbers is stolen from an employee.
- During an office move, several boxes containing employee records are lost.
- An e-mail containing employee payroll data is inadvertently sent to a customer e-mail distribution list.

Fast, Effective Response, Restoration

Data Compromise coverage provides:

- Legal review and recommendations on how to respond to a breach
- Forensic information technology services to research the cause and scope of the breach
- Notification of the affected individuals.

Most importantly, the individuals whose personal information has been compromised are provided credit monitoring and identity recovery case management services as well as access to one of the world's leading security and identity recovery specialists.
